Why whisky barrels?

- The whisky has significantly reduced the tannins of the barrel without closing the pores of the barrel. The wine can benefit from improved micro-oxygenation - with reduced tannins and subtle vanilla notes.
- The wine gets a round & creamy texture on the palate
- Minimal residual flavors of the whiskey, from the pores of the wood increase the complexity and complexity of the wine.

VINEYARD: The vineyard is located in San Román de Hornija at an altitude of 720 m. The soils are sandy with large stones. Clay and deep subsoils.

TASTING: Very aromatic wine, with nuances of ripe black fruit, spices, chocolate, toasted nuances (smoke). Structured in the mouth but very fatty and with sweet tannins, with a lot of volume and a pleasant finish.
